RE: Greenville University/Teaching Channel Graduate Courses
Date: April 1st, 2026,

This letter verifies that all courses offered through Greenville University's Partnership with Teaching Channel are designed for graduate-level continuing education.

Teaching Channel courses are recorded with a letter grade in the Graduate Coursework Division of the Greenville University transcript. All courses are reviewed by the School of Education to ensure they meet graduate-level standards. Greenville University is accredited by the Higher Learning Commission. Course codes on the Greenville University transcript may differ from Teaching Channel course codes.

Eligible individuals who complete Teaching Channel courses may apply up to six (6) credits toward electives in the Master of Arts in Education program. Credit earned through individual courses does not imply admission to the program.

Greenville University is committed to supporting the academic growth and professional development of educators. For questions or additional information about Teaching Channel courses, please contact Brenton M. Ellis, Academic Records Coordinator, at records@greenville.edu or (618) 664-7025.
